Synopsis

It is the Mid-90s, in a small town in the north of Morocco, Fouad is the only technician the Post Office has. A neurological disease changes his life and that of his family. A new story begins for Fouad, his wife and, their children. The house will be filled with love, sorrow and memories. While Fouad is dying, the family members are rediscovering themselves. As time goes by sores appear... but the desire to live is inextinguishable.
